A delightful trio: Sparkle pencils in white, light grey and black

We all know that everyone has their own favourite colour. But for those who see things in black and white to discover the grey area, now that is new: with its new Sparkle collection, Faber-Castell brings black and white together with a fine light grey. This looks extremely elegant and the sparkling design leaves no doubt that happiness and glitter belong together. The three newcomers to the Sparkle collection don't just add a little luxury to your life: with their ergonomic triangular shape, they ensure a good hold and secure feel when writing.
